- Tasks related to academic support such as admission fee exemption, tuition fee exemption, and scholarship recipient selection
- Tasks related to the payment of admission and tuition fees along with necessary tasks at financial institutions contracted with receipt and disbursement services
- Anonymous research tasks related to the student selection process
- Tasks related to publication relations targeted at current students or their families along with tasks related to fundraising (donations)
- Tasks related to outcomes assessment for graduates, support for the alumni association and foundation activities, and information services and information provision through KU
- Other anonymously conducted statistical tasks related to the student selection process
- Tasks for students of the Division of Transdisciplinary Sciences can receive the same internal services as KU at the Japan Advanced Institute of Science and Technology.

10. Economic Support System

(1) Admission and tuition fee exemptions

For those who have applied for exemption, we may waive all or half of the admission fee and all, half, or some of the amount of tuition for the semester to be paid. For details regarding how to apply, please refer to the Graduate School Admission Procedures and Requirements which are provided prior to the admission procedure period.

(2) Scholarship Programs

1) Scholarship programs unique to the Graduate School of Frontier Science Initiative

The Graduate School of Frontier Science Initiative has established a grant-type scholarship system for students committed to proceeding to the Doctoral Level Section of the Integrated Course, have no recurring income, and have received the recommendation of their academic advisor. When enrolled in the Master's Level Section of the Integrated Course, students will receive ¥50,000 per month. After proceeding to the Doctoral Level Section of the Integrated Course, students will receive ¥100,000 a month. Details will be provided with the acceptance letter.

2) Japan Student Services Organization and private scholarship associations scholarships

There are scholarship loans that require repayment after completion and scholarship grants which do not, that are presided over by JASSO (Japan Student Services Organization), prefectural and municipal governments, and private scholarship associations. For more information, see the websites of each organization.

3) Scholarship programs unique to KU targeted at international students

At Kanazawa University, we have established our own scholarship system for self-financed international students. For more information, see the websites below.

<http://www.adm.kanazawa-u.ac.jp/ie/e/abroad/scholarship.html>

11. Points of Note Regarding the Division of Transdisciplinary

Sciences

The Division of Transdisciplinary Sciences is an inter-university curriculum between Kanazawa University and the Japan Advanced Institute of Science and Technology (JAIST). Please apply upon confirmation of the following.

- Please apply to the university to which your preferred supervisor belongs, take the examinations for the student selection process at that university, and complete the admission procedures. Applicants that have completed admission procedures for one of the universities cannot conduct admission procedures for the other university even if they pass the examinations for the student selection process at that university.
- Student's home university will be the component university that their preferred supervisor (academic staff primarily responsible for research guidance) belongs to. Students receive guidance and advice on education, research, and student life through a system of several academic advisors that include student's supervisor at their home university and second supervisors at the other component university
- Students who have completed the prescribed course at KU will be awarded a Master of Philosophy in the names of KU and JAIST. Students must earn a minimum of 10 credits at JAIST as a requirement for completion.
- As a general rule, subjects held at JAIST are to be taken by commuting to JAIST campus. However, we have introduced a system that reduces the burden of commuting through the use of media-based remote lecture streaming systems and holding lectures in an intensive lecture format.
- KU students can also use facilities and equipment at JAIST, such as libraries. However, some facilities and equipment may have restrictions on their use.

12. Distinctive Educational Programs at Kanazawa University

(1) WISE Program for Nano-Precision Medicine, Science, and Technology

Kanazawa University has started "WISE Program for Nano-Precision Medicine, Science, and Technology" in Graduate School of Natural Science and Technology, Graduate School of Medical Sciences, Graduate school of Advanced Preventive Medical Sciences and Graduate School of Frontier Science Initiative are participating in this program.

This program develops doctoral human resources who learned how to apply the latest nano analysis technology possessed by the Nano Life Science Institute (NanoLSI) to medical, pharmaceutical and health sciences and science and engineering and can make innovations to build a human health base.

Program students will be selected from those who have passed the graduate school entrance examination. Kanazawa University funds a scholarship (In FY2020, all applicants were granted 50,000 yen per month for the Master's Course and 100,000 yen per month for the Doctoral Course.) and exempts admission and tuition fees for program students.

Please check the website for details of this program. In addition, if you register in the form, we will distribute information such as application guidelines, pre-lectures and seminars.

(2) Employment Promotion Program for International Students Hokuriku-Shinshu Employment Promotion Program for International Students

Why don't you consider working and building your career in Japan?

Among those who took this program, all students who wish to work in Japan have received job offers from Japanese companies.

Kanazawa University offers the program, which is financially supported by the Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology under "Employment Promotion Program for International Students" policy. This program is an appended education program with a focus on business Japanese, career education and internships in Japanese companies for international students who are interested in working in Japan. By taking this program, students can acquire not only advanced expertise or skills but also deep understanding of Japanese corporate culture and regional characteristics. Through this, we have developed highly-skilled professionals who are flexible and mentally strong and root themselves in the community. They lead Japanese economic development, especially energizing industries in the Hokuriku and Shinshu regions.

This program has been published in The Financial Times, one of the most prestigious British economic newspapers. An orientation meeting on the program is to be held in April and October at the time of enrollment periods. The exact dates will be announced after your enrollment. We look forward to your active participation.
