Note: These insurance payments must be made at the time of enrollment by bank transfer.

9. Management/Protection of Personal Information

Kanazawa University is committed to the proper management and protection of personal information according to the current “Regulations on the management of personal information.”

The personal information obtained through the entrance examinations and the personal information described on documents that are mandatory at the time of enrollment are used for the following services/operations:

- Services/operations for entrance examinations and admission procedures;
- Services/operations for school register management, study guidance, and health management such as medical checkups;
- Services/operations for Kanazawa University portal site management after enrollment, for the use of campus LAN, and for the campus services such as the use of the library and book lending;
- Services/operations for study support such as admission fee exemption, tuition fee exemption, scholarship selection etc.;
- Services/operations related to payment of entrance fees and tuition fees and to disbursement at a financial institution contracted;
- Anonymously conducted research concerning the selection of successful candidates;
- Services/operations related to public relations targeted at current students and their families as well as serviced/operations related to fundraising (donations);
- Services/operations related to outcome assessment for graduates, support for the alumni association and foundation activities, and information services and information provision through Kanazawa University;
- Other anonymously conducted statistical operations related to the student selection process;
- Services/operations for students of the Division of Transdisciplinary Sciences to be able to receive the same internal services as Kanazawa University at the Japan Advanced Institute of Science and Technology.

10. Financial support

1) Exemption from admission fee and tuition fee

Those who apply for exemption may be exempted from fees, i.e. all or half of the amount of the admission fee and/or all or half or a portion of the amount of the tuition fee for the semester concerned. Details of how to apply will be found in the admission procedure guidelines sent to successful applicants.

2) Scholarship programs

i) Scholarships of the Japan Student Services Organization and private scholarship associations

There are loan-type scholarships that require repayment after completion and benefit-type scholarships that do not, presided over by JASSO (Japan Student Services Organization), prefectural and municipal governments, and private scholarship associations. For more information, see the websites of those organizations.

ii) Scholarship program unique to Kanazawa University for international students

Kanazawa University provides its own scholarships to international students supported privately.

Details can be found on the following website:

<https://intl-support.w3.kanazawa-u.ac.jp/tuition/private.php>

iii) Program for fostering personnel having a doctorate degree with benefit-type scholarship

Please see the list at the end of the Application Guidelines.

11. Notes Regarding the Division of Transdisciplinary Sciences

The Division of Transdisciplinary Sciences is an inter-university curriculum between Kanazawa University and the Japan Advanced Institute of Science and Technology (JAIST). Please apply after confirming the following:

- Please apply to the university to which the supervisor of your preference belongs, take the examinations for the student selection process at that university, and complete the admission procedures. Successful applicants who have completed admission procedures for one of the two universities cannot conduct admission procedures for the other university even if they pass the examinations for the student selection process at that university.
- The home university of a student will be the primary university that his/her supervisor of preference (academic member primarily responsible for research guidance) belongs to. Students receive guidance and advice on education, research, and student life through a system of several academic advisors including the student supervisor at their home university and a second supervisor at the other university.
- A student who has completed the prescribed course at Kanazawa University will be awarded a Master of Philosophy in the names of Kanazawa University and JAIST. Students must earn a minimum of 10 credits at JAIST as a requirement for completion.
- As a general rule, subject classes held at JAIST are to be taken on the JAIST campus. However, a system has been introduced that reduces the burden of commuting through the use of media-based remote lecture streams and lectures in an intensive lecture format.
- Students of Kanazawa University can use facilities and equipment at JAIST such as libraries. However, some facilities and equipment may have restrictions on their use.
